

American Period Furniture

The Annual Journal of the Society of American Period Furniture Makers

Information for Advertisers

American Period Furniture is the annual journal of the Society of American Period Furniture Makers. This distinctive publication is sent to SAPFM members in December of each year. Edited by Robert W. Lang and written by experts in the field of historical furniture construction the journal is an in-depth resource with a wealth of information on the history and construction methods for furniture made in the United States.

Each edition of the journal contains at least 100 pages of unique editorial content along with an advertising section with resources for those who share our passion for quality furniture with historical significance. Printed in the USA on durable gloss paper the journal is intended to last, and is a valuable reference that grows with each annual edition.

SAPFM is a non-profit educational organization dedicated to the understanding and appreciation of historical forms of American furniture, operating at a national level and through 22 regional chapters

SAPFM Members:

- Seek to preserve historical methods by researching and making reproductions of the finest example of furniture ever made.
- Are both professional and amateur woodworkers with a passion for quality.
- Share their knowledge with their peers through writing for SAPFM publications, local chapter meetings and SAPFM gatherings at the national level.
- Are leaders and influencers in their local wood-working communities and in online communities.
- Our typical member is your best customer.

Midyear Conference

SAPFM 2022 MIDYEAR CONFERENCE, JUNE 24-27, CONTINUES TO TAKE SHAPE.

SAM RHODES
Editor

We have partnered with the University of Mary Washington Department for Historic Preservation in Fredericksburg, Virginia.

All presentations will take place in Combs Hall in the Campus and the two banquets will be in the Jepson Alumni Executive Center across a block from Combs Hall.

Friday is a busy day. Our audience is divided into three groups. This is an all-day event with an opportunity to rotate through three divisions to see three different presentations do their thing. Each presentation is 90 minutes long. While our presenters and speakers are still putting the final touches on their presentations, we know our first speaker will be Jeff Healey and Steve Hamilton will address "The Architectural Influence on Furniture and Interior Woodwork".

Check Reader: 2022 Cartouche recipient, author, YouTuber and owner of Colonial Williamsburg will demonstrate "Decorative Cocking/Slit/Dome and Enjoy the Process of Using Traditional Hand Tools".

Chuck Reader: 2022 Cartouche recipient, author, YouTuber and owner of Colonial Williamsburg will demonstrate "Decorative Cocking/Slit/Dome and Enjoy the Process of Using Traditional Hand Tools".

Between the afternoon presentations there is a 60 minute talk about period furniture.

The afternoon speaker will be Adam Eddy, Associate Curator at George Washington Mount Vernon. Adam reports in "George Washington's Consumption of English and Virginia-made Furniture, 1755-1794".
